READERS CHOICE

Napa Valley's reputation as one of the world's finest wine and culinary destinations has made it one of the most desirous places to visit, and its local charms have also made it one of America's best small towns in which to live. Besides the year-round, Mediterranean climate, the award-winning wineries, restaurants, and local purveyors offer visitors and locals the perfect haven to experience some of the most unique and memorable places, people, and things to do.

Each year, Napa Valley Life pauses to recognize and celebrate the area's bounties by asking our readers to weigh in on their favorite places to eat, drink, shop, and play, and we have the privilege to present them in our annual Best of Napa Valley-Readers Choice Awards. Well, folks, the results are in! After calculating thousands of votes and write-in entries, we are pleased to share and congratulate this year's winners in each polling category.

We hope you enjoy reading the results and take the time to congratulate the ones you know and make a point to discover the ones you don't.

Gotts Roadside has been around since it was introduced in St. Helena as Taylor's Refresher as a car-hop restaurant back in 1999. Its popularity prompted its expansion to the Ferry Building in San Francisco and then downtown in Napa's Oxbow Public Market District in 2007. The retro-style restaurant has something for everyone with a menu that serves gourmet-style roadside classics such as inventive burgers, hot dogs, fries, handmade shakes, fresh seafood tacos, poke bowls, fresh salads, fried chicken, and chili, all accompanied by an impressive beer and local wine list.
